Under the obituary head in the Norfolk papers, we find the names of Mrs. Otelia Batler, wife of Dr. Batler; Thos. P., son of A Jordan, and Thos. Melegan.

The Norfolk Aryus, speaking of the clergymen who have fied, says:—In alluding to the departure of four or five ministers, since the fever commenced its ravages, we included at least two from the opposite side of the river. We take pleasure in stating that several preachers here are doing their duty faithfully. We cannot speak knowingly in this respect with regard to Portsmouth; but there are some here whose diligent, unceasing and effectual pastoral visitations well deserve notice and commendation. Rev. Messra. Jackson, of St. Paul's; Walke, of Christ church, (the regular pastor having let for Europe several months ago.) Armstrong, of the Presbyterian; Wills, of the Cumberland street Methodist; Dibrell, of the Granby street Methodist; O'Keefe, of St. Patrick's; McCielland, of the Methodist; O'Keefe, of St. Patrick's; McCielland, of the Methodist; Protestant; and Jones, of the African Methodist, are among those who are busily and usefully engaged in their efforts to give consolation to the sufferers. Some of them are in regular attendance at the thospital, and none of those mentioned manifest a desire to fly from the sourge—preferring to die in the faithful discharge of their known duty, to loaving the suffering and afflicted members of their focss in the midst of disease and death, without those words of comfort and Christian consolation which it becomes them especially to impart in the hour of extraordinary calamity and itial.

comfort and Christian consolation which it becomes them especially to impart in the hour of extraordinary calamity and trial.

Alluding to the distress prevailing in the city, the News says:—We learn from a reliable source that a good deal of distress and suffering already exist among the poor of our city. Peprived of work and without means, many of that class who depend on their daily labor for support, and especially females who live by their needle, are experiencing the want of the necessaries of life.

As the Howard Association are pechaps sufficiently engaged in attending to the sick, would it not be well to form another benevolent association for the purpose of searching out and relieving the worthy and modest poor? We are sure that abundant means could be collected from our citizens to minister to their wants. Who will set this philanthropic ball its motion?

The Heraid has the following tribute to the Howard Association there.—This I bilanthropic Association is ally allording relief to such of the sick poor who have riesds willing to nurse them at home, and daily sending to the hospital those who have neither friends nor noney. Well it is for the unfortunate wretches that such association was sepremptly organized for their relief. The stoutest heart would shudder were we to describe some it he seemes of poverty and distress that have come under our notice. Alas, for poer faithless human mature i riends, neighbors and acquaintanees fiee at the first larm of sickness, leaving the unfortunates alone and elepless, to be sought out and carred for by strangers, and they should die, the preacher and the hears driver are he sole attendants of their funeral.

The provisions mentioned yesterday as having been ent to Norfolk from Faltimore, had arrived there in the tenemes Georgia.

On Friday night a building owned by S. R. Bocum, near the Agricultural Fair ground, was struck by lightning during a heavy thunder storm and burned.

The following persons are convalescent:—Mr. Henry Harwood, Mr. W. H. Broughton and Mr. S. R. Boram.

The Howard Association, so far, have received about $5,000 in contributions.

Mr. Stey hen James, an old citizen of Portsmouth, was buried on saturday. Two of his daughters were ill with the fover.

buried on Saturday. Two of his daughters were ill with the fever.

We have Norfolk papers of Tuesday. Among the deaths on Saturday was that of Captain William C. Stark, of the United States morine corps. Captain Stark died of apoplexy. The Norfolk Herotol says:—

Capt. Stark was one of the most efficient and accomplished officers in the corps, having served with much distinction throughout the Florida war, and as captain of marines on several stations. He had returned in March from a cruise in the West Indies, where he commanded the marine guard of the frigate Columbia, and at the time of his death was Quarter-Master on this station. With a quiet unassuming manner, he combined teader feeling and the power to command in a high degroe.

The following leaver from the President of the Common Council of Portemouth Dass ocen Médived by out Mayor, and submitted by him to the Board of Health —

FORTEMOTH, Va., Aug. 20, 1855.

Several of our physicians are sick, and the others nearly broken down. Can we get medical aid from your city for the relief of the sick! Write me on receipt of this if any of your surgeons will come: they will not only be hospitably received, but will be amply remunerated. I do not wish, and shall not conceal the fact to our citizens abroad, that the fever is raging to an alarming extent.

We are requested to state, that physicians who may desire to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the lotter, are requested to present their names to the Board of Health, at their office in the City Hall, to-morrow (Wednesday) morning, at ten o'clock.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

The yellow fever in 1705 made its appearance in Philadelphia for the first time in that year, in the last week in August, and continued till near the end of October. In 1705 the yellow fever commenced in New York about the middle of August, and disappeared on the 19th

There were rumors of yellow fever in New York on the 13th of July, 1796; it set in with great virulence on the 22d of August, and continued till the 8th of October. In 1797 the yellow fever commenced in Philadelphia on the 13th of August, and was very severe on the 14th of September. 118 died in the two days previous.

The yellow fever commenced in Boston, and also in Philadelphia, on the 8th of August, 1708, and in New York on the 20th of that mouth. It continued in New York on the 5th of November.

In 1799 there were a few cases of yellow fever on the 23d of July, but on the 19th it had disappeared. But on the 11th of August 1: re-appeared, and on the 27th was supposed to be extinct. On the 30th of that month supposed to be extinct. On the 30th of that month Dr. Post said it was the most healthy season he had ever known. On the 4th of September it again re-appeared and was very violent and censed on the 18th of October. On the 10th of July, 1860, several persons died of drinking cold water—the temperature on that day was 30 deg. In September cases of yellow fever were reported, but some of the physicians said it was bilious fever.

In 1801 the tever did not make its appearance till the 20th of September in New York, and continued till the 20th of October.

In 1803 the first death by yellow fever was on the 30th of July. The fever continued till the 17th of October.

On the 18th of July, 1806, a person died of yellow fever in New York. The fever continued severe in September, and disappeared the 2d of October.

In 1819 the yellow fever commenced on the 1st of September, and continued till the 22th of October. The banks, insurance companies, &c., removed from Wall street. There were but 23 deaths by yellow fever that year.

In 1822 the fever commenced on the 1oth of July, and continued till the 26th of October. Deaths, 236.

On comparing the records of new cases of yellow fever exit the records of the temperature of the atmosphere, it is found that the greatest number of new cases were reported on the coolest days of the warm season, and that the fever disappeared when the 7 A. M. temperature in the city that is suffering from pestilence falls to 57 degrees of Farenheit.

Thunder storms occurring during the fever period thave been uniformly followed by an increase of new cases.

MARRIED VS. SINGLE—LONG ISLAND CLUB.

The maiden match of this new club was played on Tuesday, near the Three-mile House, Bedford, married men winning, with four wickets to spare—a well contested victory. The game was pretilly played throughout. Single men opened the ball with J. Hollely and Stevens. The latter began batting very nicely, but unfortunately got run out in both innings. Holden, who followed him, is a good cricketer; he bowls well and goes the pare. Labon commenced quite spirited. He dashed right into the ball, made two capital square leg hits for four oach, and two straight drives for three each. He topped the score of the day, and is a good, useful member. Baxter score of the day, and is a good, useful member. Baxter played very well. Applin and Youle showed some nice play: the latter made a capital catch and two good cuts for three each. Harry Russell kept up his name as a cricketter. He bowled some nice balls, and batted in his usual happy style. He was well in when game was called, having made two excellent square hits for three each, and was carried off the ground by his fellow memcach, and was carried off the ground by his fellow members. E. Hollely, who faced him, was also well in, and these two men would no doubt have made a big score if time had not been called. E. Russell is another good member, both at batting and bowling. He made a good leg hit for three, another for two, and a capital square drive for four. The ground wants a good deal of dressing, it is very prettily situated, and the row of trees make a nice shady promenade. The ladies flocked up strong during the day, and made the ground look quite lively. The American flag and rustic tents added materially to the scene. The day passed off very delightfully, and everybody seemed highly pleased with the day's amusements.

Mount Vernon.

TO THE PRENCH RESIDING IN THE UNITED STATES.
SOUTT OF LA MONTAGES,

72 Leonard street, Aug. 21, 1855.

The tomb of Washington is falling to ruin, and the destructive hand of time, if not arrested, will soon efface every vestige of the monument at Mount Vernon. Surely the earth which covers the remains of that great man ought to belong to the nation. Shall it be permitted to become the prey of speculators?

The American press has made an appeal to the public. What will be the response we cannot tell, but we firmly believe that it will be in consonance with the national heart and sympathy.

All the glorious traditions of liberty are interesting to us, and Washington is one of the noblest models of the revolutionary heroes of the eighteenth century. Like every man whose name has served as a symbol of regeneration—whose life has been one continuous act of alongation—his memory ought to be blessed by all, whatever be their nationality.

There can be no doubt but that there will be subscriptions opened among the Americans. Let us do the same. It is appropriate—it is right—that France inscribe her name on a marble dedicated to independence and liberty.

A French committee is now organizing for this purpose. It will, when it has made the proper arrangements, convoke a meeting of the French in this city.

Theatres and Exhibitions.

Broadway Treatre.—This theatre is crowded every evening at an early hour to see the light and pleasing amusements of the Gabriel Ravel troupe, consisting of the Martinetti family, Mile. Celestine Franck, Miss Frances, Mile. Capel, M. Collet and M. H. Wells. The comic pantomine of "Nicodemus" and the beautiful pantomine of the "SEPWINCH" are selected for this evening.

Bowery Theatre.—Mr. and Miss Charles are drawing large houses, and their representations of Irish character are much admired and applauded by the audience. Tonight "Irichand and America," the interdule of "in and Out of I'lace," and the melo-drama of "Sixteen String Jack." Miss Charles' benefit to-morrow night.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE.—The comic representations of Mr. Hackett are drawing very respectable audiences to this establishment. To-night Mr. Hackett appears in his celebrated character of Rip Van Winkle in the legend of that name; also in the "Kentuckian," as Col. Nimrod Wildfire.

Woone' MINESTELLS.—The pergre melodiest soles on the Wildfire.

Woods' MINSTREIS.—The negro melodies, solos on the violin, banjo, and other instruments. The Masquerade Ball, with the grand Railroad Gallop for this evening.

Miss. Griptims.—This lady takes her first benefit at the Bowery theatre, on Wednesday evening next, when it is hoped her friends will give her a bumper.

A letter in the Savannah Courier announces the death of the Hon. Isaac H. Bronson, Judge of the United States Circuit Court for the northern district of Florida. He died at Fliatka, of pulmonary consumption, in the night of the 13th instant. Judge Bronson was a native of the state of New York, from which he was for one or two terms a Representative in Congress. About the year 1859, appointed one of its Territorial Judges, he removed to Florida, and has (with the exception of an interval of a few months) been connected with the judiciary of the United States ever since. At the time of his death he was probably forty-seven or forty-eight years of age.

New York Cattle Market.

Wednesday, August 22, 1855.

At Allerton's, notwithstanding the superhuman efforts that have been made to sustain the market for beef cattle under the increasing supplies, we are enabled to quote a slight decline this week,—say ½ cent per lb. on the average. The number in market to-day we found to be 2,446, and for the week 2,466. These were mostly from Ohio, though Illinois, Indiana, New York and Kentucky were fairly represented. Little or no improvement was noticable in the quality of the cattle in the yards, the majority being what might be termed ordinary. It is matter of surprise that most of the beeves received this summer have been in such poor condition, when we consider that the pasturage in nearly all sections of the country has rarely ever been equalled and never excelled. Besides, the increased facilities for getting stock to market, one would think, would materially improve the condition of cattle brought from long distances. Butchers have bought cautionsly throughout the week, in anticipation of a still further reduction. But a limited number, if any, it was thought, would be left over unsold. Prices ranged from $7.50 to $11 per 100 bis.; but you could not buy a decent steer below $9, and average was about $10 a $10.25. Cows and calves were slow, as compared with last week, and prices rather drooped. Veal calves sold moderately well, without any material change in prices. Swine were very dull; there were only 166 received—these sold at 6 a 7c.

Giving a more minute description and a built revelution of the mysteries and secrets of nunnaffies than has ever before been submitted to the American public.
Eleganity bound in cloth: 12mo. Price $1.

The public are aware that we have lately been involved in a course of litigation respecting a book-on conventifie, and the result is also known. Though there is a great diversity of opinion respecting the injunction and its attending circumstances, there can be but one concerning the merits of this work, in which we have new the pleasure of pre-enting a fuller and more deficited account of the inner life of convents or numeries than we could have presented in any other form.

HORKES OF A NUNNEAY.

False religion has clouded the sky o'er my head, And Rome sont her demons to fill me with dread; Superstition surrounds me with darkness and fear—Sweet friends of my childhood; Oh, would you were near.

Long a prisoner, oppressed, lone, and vainly I've grieves. Uh, fand delusion—I'm now undeceived.

But my tyrants are round me and fill me with dread—Noble brothers, aweet mother, oh, come to my aid.

Believe not the falseboods the wretches will tell, When they say I am happy and choose this dark cell; Haste, open my prison—delay not to come—Unbolt my damp dungeen, and carry me home.

WILL BE PUBLISHED, SATURDAY, SEPT. 1, JAPAN, AS IT WAS AND IS.

BY RICHARD HILDIGAT.

Author of "History of the United States," &c., &c.
In this work, the fruit of great labor and research, Mr.
Hildreth has embodied all the information concerning the history and present state of these remote islands which has come to the knowledge of the Western world. The Portuguese missionaries, and the Dutch, English and Spaniards who visited Japan between two and three centuries ago, are almost the only Europeans that have ever practiated the country; and their accounts are far more valuable than the impressions of later travellers who have merely visited the coasts. Since the expulsion of the Jesuits, about the year 1857, the exclusion of foreigners has been strict, excepting only a very limited intercourse with the Dutch. Many of these accounts appear in English, for the first time, in this volume.

The style of the book is very attractive, and the descriptions of scenery, manners and customs, will render it entertaining to the general reader.

The student will be glad to see that an accurate and reliable map, full indexee, motes and a glossary are added. In one large 12mo. vol., 576 pp. With a characteristic title page. Price $1.26.

TO WESTWARD SHIPPERS.—TRANS-PORTATION
Office, Paltimore and Ohio Italiroad, Baltimore, August J6, 1855.—In consequence of great misrepresentations having been made by interested parties. I beg to inform the public that the slight obstruction on this road, at Kingwood Tunnel, is now entirely removed; and that freight (as well as passengers) is new forwarded in both directions promptly on schedule time. The continuation of this despatch is ensured by the building of an additional road over the hill at Kingwood, by which the use of the tunnel will be avoided, until its whiening and archings is finished. This new track is now in use. The business community is confidently assured that these freight between the four great Atlantic cities and the West will be transported by this road, and its connections in time at least as short, at rates as low, and with as match general ratisfaction as by any other route. Shippecs at
